Wire Palling at the Chienge Show-Bealers Disappointed.

The Philadelphian Misses Only Four Pigeons Out of the First Fifty-Dr. Wynn Is Second-A Strong Wind Helps the Flyers from a 21-Yard Boundary.

The third annual competition for the amateur pigeon-shooting championship of the United States was begun at the picturesque grounds of the Larchmont Yacht Club, overlooking Long Island Sound, yesterday. At the end of the fiftieth round, Robert S. Welch, the crack Philadelphia wing shot, wir won the Patten Cup at Elkwood last week, was in the lead with a score of 46. Dr. William Wynn was second with 44, and George Work was third with 43. G. S. McAlpin, the Carteret crack; L. T. Davenport, Fred G. Moore, and Edgar Gibbs Murphy are close up, and there is no telling what will happen today, particularly if there is any wind,

The event, which is the most important of the winter season, drew a large crowd of club men and wing shots to Larchmont, and, with the possible exception of J. K. Palmer, the winner in 1895, all of the best shots in clubdom took part in the contest. Palmer was entered, but unfortunately a death in his family forced him to withdraw at the last minute. Among others who retired were Clarence Mackay, H. Yale

Dolan, J. B. Ellison, and W. S. Edey. In spite of the withdrawals it was the largest field that ever faced the traps for the event, and there was more speculation than usual among the spectators, as only a twenty-one-yard instead of the usual fifty-yard boundary was used. This not only caused any number of birds to be scored as misses that under ordinary circumstances would have counted all right in a fifty-yard boundary, but a half a gale from the Northwest hurled many of the right quarterers out of bounds after they had been killed stone dead inside of the line.

The competition, which was inaugurated in 1895, was won then by J. K. Palmer, with a score of 95. George Work was second with 90, and L. T. Davenport third with 89. The other competitors were Dr. Wynn, F. G. Moore, C. Ferguson Jr.; Capt. Money, W. S. Edey, and B. Madison Last year Edgar Gibbs Murchy and Charles Macalester tied at 92, the former winning the cup on the shoot off. J. K. Palmer was third with 90, and L. T. Davenport fourth with 80. The other contestants were: H. B. Wright, George Work, Yale Dolan, F. G. Moore, Fred Hoey, E. F. Thomas, W. A. H. Stafford. J. B. Eilison, W. G. Brokaw, and W. S. Edey. This year, in view of the short boundary, any number of wagers have been made that 90 will win the match, but if there is any wind to-day it is doubtful if even that score is equalled.

Taking yesterday's birds as a whole Stafford, who stands next to last on the list, drew by far who had been doing good execution, took second place, and Weich third. The other misses up to the twenty-fifth round were as follows: Invesport lost his seventh, a right driver, also died outside: eleventh, a right driver, also died outside: seventeenth, a right quarterer, and the twenty-first, a similar bird, died outside. Sanford missed his fifteenth, and then had his attacenth and seventeenth birds, right quarterers, die outside. He also lost nineteenth and had his attacent and seventeenth birds, right quarterers, die outside. He also lost nineteenth and had his twenty-fifth die outside. Moore missed a right driver in the eleventh round, and then had a straight driver die outside in the eighteenth round. Dr. Wynn's only other miss in this string was a left driver in the twenty-second round, which died outside.

Murphy lost his seventh and ninth birds, right quarterers, which died outside, and also missed a right quarterer in the tenth, twenty-second, and thenty-fifth rounds, and a straight driver in the fourteenth round. Marshall made frequent missakes. His seventh, tenth, sixteenth, twentieth, twenty-second, right quarterers; fourteenth, a left driver, and twenty-third, a left quarterer, were missed clean. Macalester had his eighth die outside, and then missed his tenth, twelfth, thirteenth, twenty-first, and twenty-therd, a left graft quarterer, die outside, and then missed his eleventh round. Hoey had his seventh, a right quarterer, die outside, and then missed his eleventh, sixteenth round. Hoey had his seventh, and twenty-first rounds. Meyer's misses were in the eleventh, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, itwenty-second, and twenty-fifth rounds was follows:

Work, 24. Wynn. 23. Weich, 22. Meapin, 21. Moore, 21. Davenport, 20. Stokes, 20. Murphy, 19. Sanford's lost birds in the seventh, tenth, eleventh, twenty-third, and twenty-fifth round was as follows:

was as follows: Work, 24: Wynn, 23: Welch, 22: McAlpin, 21: Moors, 21: Davenbort, 20: Stokes, 20: Murphy, 19: Sanford, 17: Macalenter, 10: Marshall, 15; Hoey, 15; Mayer, 16: Stafford, 14.

Bantor, 17 Managere, 10, Marman, 10; noey, 10; Hayer, 15; Stafford, 14.

In the second quarter, Weich, thanks to fine shooting, aided by good luck, took the lead by killing twenty-four out of twenty-five birds. Work having the misfortune to lose four out of his first five birds. As a consequence Dr. Wynn took second place and Work third. The majority of the coatestants improved in their exhibition toward the fiftieth round. While there will probably be a number of withdrawals today, the man receive the privilege of shooting up whenever they stand a chance of getting any of the prize money. The scores yesterday follow:

Lively Comments on the U. S. S. A. Committee Meeting.

Referee-Edward Banks.

Golfers had plenty to say yesterday regarding the proceedings at Wednesday's meeting of the U. S. G. A. Executive Committee. The comsion of the ruling body in the gotfing world. On the Stock Exchange, where many golfers do business, something in the nature of a mass meeting, or, rather, an informal caucus, was held in the intervals of trading. The holding over of the application of the Knollwood Country Club for associate membership was the spark that kindled the flery talk. A consensus of the opinions was that the Executive Committee had made a grave mistaxe. This is the mildest way of putting the expressed criticisms. J. Borden Harriman is ne of the Knollwood men on the Stock Exchange who discussed the ruling, but he would not speak for publication. A. T. Gillender and other Knollwood members who were met had adopted Harriman's policy. The Knollwood Country Club will hold a special meeting the first of next week, when the action of the U.S.

G. A. will be reviewed. Under the U.S. G. A. constitution any club, where the links, accommodations, constitution, and by-laws of the club are such as to make it representative," is eligible to associate membership. The application of the Knoll-wood Club was laid over because it was thought best to have a larger attendance of the committee before voting on it. Unless a special meeting is called, of which fifteen days' notice must be given the members, the Executive Committee will not meet again until the time of the annual meeting. Henry P. Toler, of the Baltusrol Golf Club. and a medal man in the amateur championship

Henry P. Toler, of the Baltusrol Golf Club, and a medal man in the amateur championship of 189d, had this to say: "I regard Knollwood as the best place for the amateur championships this year. When Webb, the Irish amateur, asked me to pick out a representative links near New York for our match last September. I brought him to Knollwood. He said it was the only course he had seen during his travers in this country that players in Great Britain would care to meet on for championship golf. After Knollwood, I consider any Eastern dourse preferable this year to Chicago."

The winner of the putting contest at the amateur championship, Arthur L. Livermore, like Toler, would not comment for publication on the Knollwood postponement. "I hope the championships will not go to Chicago." Livermore said, under pressure. "I must say that I regard Knollwood as a representative golf club," he added, "and I think the 115 amateurs who met in the five open tournaments there this season will say the same.

"I know little about Knollwood," said James A. Tyng, the Morris County Club champion, "but it seems to be a representative like. If our club wauts it, I believe Morristown would be a good course for the amateur championship. The improvements have made the cighteen-hole round close to 6,000 yards in playing distance, and our Greens Committee showed during the women's championship the ability to handle a big event in good style. I do not think the comparisons in Macdonald's circular have helped the claim of the Chicago Golf Club, Personally, I prefer any Eastern course to a Western one." "Does the Morris County Golf Club want the amateur and open championships?" was the question asked Raisson H. Thomas, the Chairman of the Greens Committee of the Morristown organization.

"That is the one subject I will not say a word shout," replied Thomas.
"Well, what do you think about the Knollwood Club's application for associate membership?"

"Hold on! That is another subject on which I will not say a word." reference the proper in the countr that an open discussion will result in a more practicable scale.

"Under the new scale," said Daniel Chauncey, golf captain of the Dyker Meadow Club, "our official scratch score will be 80 for the double round of eighteen holes. There is not an artificial hazard at Dyker Meadow, nor any long double round of eighteen holes. There is not an artificial hazard at Dyker Meadow, nor any long grass, yet no amateur has ever made the full course in less than 92. This will debar all of our members from the amateur championship, under the Eaccutive Committee's ruling. Yet a dozen or more could easily qualify within six of the standard on at easier course. This puts us in a dilemma."

The links of the Staten Island Cricket and Basebail Club at Livingston are in excellent condition despite the cold weather, and the goifers are out every bright day. Some good cards have been made, aithough temporary greens are being used while the regular ones are under a winter dressing. Among recent improvements to the course are two terrace greens for the holes on the hillside. The other greens have been enlarged to more than twice their former size. The club is arranging a series of tournaments and team matches for the coming season. A members' approaching and putting contest is announced for February, and will be played under the rules which recently appeared in TRE SUN. Charles T. Stout has been elected the Golf Captain for 1897.

Skating Championship Tourney to Be Resumed To-day.

After being snowed under on Thursday, the promoters of the speed skating championships have been hustling with such satisfactory reaults that the ice is pronounced good enough to admit of racing to-day. The programme in-cludes a special three-cornered 100-yard match between veterans and the ten mise national championship. Impromptu races will be ar-ranged to, fill the bill, and the tournament will wind up by electric light with a carnival and dreworks.

CHANCES FOR AMATEUR JOCKEYS. Conditions of Events at Brighton, Wash-ington, and Westebester.

A strong bid for the support of the amateur riders, who have in recent years only figured in slik at the Hunt and Country Club race meetings, is made in the announcements for the pring meetings at Washington and Westchester and the summer meeting at Brighton Beach. In addition, the Coney Island Jockey Club has just passed a resolution to open the Grand National Steeplechase and the Bay Hur-die Race to gentlemen riders, and to add another race for them, the conditions of which will be duly announced. The gentlemen jockeys will have an opportunity to race on the flat as well as between the flags. Fleetwood Not Tet Lensed.

Arrangements were completed last night whereby the use of Figotwood Park is assured to the Driving Club of New York for the trotting season of 1897. At a meeting of the Execu-James Butler, James McClenahan, and J. H. Rogan, the sub-committee appointed last Monday to negotiate with the owner of the track, reported that A. Newbold Morris had agreed to reduce the annual rental to 59,000. This is $1,000 less than the ciub contracted to pay lest year, and $3,000 less than Mr. Morris at first demanded for the use of the track in 1897. After much discussion the committee decided to defor action in the matter until next Tuesday, when another messing will be held at the Metropole. Those present last night were President James Butter, John H. Shults, Harry Dykman, Capt. C. H. McDonald, J. H. Royan, Luke Burke, and Samuel McMillan.

They will recommend that the umpires in future shall strictly sufforce the rule regarding balks, and will also make the litter keep his foot on the marble slab, as defined by the rules. The latter was flagrantly violated last season, notably in the case of Pitcher Killen of Pittaburgh.

It was over the rule regarding coaching that the committee spent most of its session. Manager Handon was of the opinion that there could not be too much of it, while President Reach wants coaching strictly confined to necessary words of direction to a base runner. After a spirited argument, it was agreed that a club should only have one coach on the base line when only one man was running the runners.

The only other action of importance taken was looking to the simplification of the present rules, some of which are ambiguous and open to misinterpretation.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. - The national cycle show will close to-morrow night, and the majority of the exhibitors will leave immediately for New York to make ready for the show which begins there on Feb. 6. The attendance to-day was very large, and, with the moderate condition of the weather, the Board of Trade looks for immense crowds on the closing day. As a show, the one about to close has been a great success The great building, its beautiful decorations, the pretty booths, the wonderful array of exhibits have been all that any one could wish, but until last night the attendance was not worthy of the show, and dealers report disappointment in their dealings with the trade, as agents and dealers have been doing comparatively little buying. To the cycling world in general greater interest attaches to the New York show, as the politics of both manu-facturers and wheelmen will warm up there, A great deal of wire pulling has been done here, and its results will be seen in New York, where the National Cycle Board of Trade and the League of American Wheelmen will hold their annual elections. President R. Lindsay Coleman says he is not a candidate for reelection in the Board of Trade. A lively contest will figure in the annual meeting of the league.

President Sterling Elilott of Massachusetts is here working hard for reflection. His most formidable opponent is Isaac B. Potter of New try their forces against those of the East, and in the bitterness of the battle between Elilott

The fine showing of Eddie Connoily against Dick Burse at Birmingham, England, on Thursday night, convinces many of his friends on this side of the water that he has improved. Connoily is a pupil of "Mysterious" Billy Smith, and is very clever. Connoily, according to a letter which he sent to Smith, will remain across or sometime yet.

The twenty found hour between Towns, White

The twenty round bout between Tomory White and Jimmy Lynch, which was scheduled to be held at the Polo A. C. tomight, will not take place owing to the fact that both men are ill. Billy Newman, however, has hustled about and secured a better card, in place of White and Lynch, Jack Delaney and "Australian" Billy Murphy will box fitteen rounds. Delaney is a very fast Eghter and ought to make Murphy hustle.

ROOSEVELT AND THE LABOR MEN. He Sided with Those Who Are for the Re-

Upon the subject of one of the topics which Theodore Roosevelt and the leaders of organized labor at the meeting held in Clarendon Hall in East Thirteenth street on Wednesday night, Mr. Roosevelt said yesterday that he had been misquoted. This was the subject of immi-gration and whether we should have laws to Mr. Henry Lloyd of the Tin and Sheet Iron Workers, who said that he and his family had been Americans for 200 years back, declared himself in favor of practically unrestricted im-migration, and a large portion of the labor men present seemed to agree with him. Another large body of them took the other view of the case, and it was these with whom Mr. Roosevelt says he was in accord. Mr. Roosevelt was seen yesterday at Police Headquarters and asked to define the position he took upon this matter in his talk with the labor men. "I warmly advocated the restriction of im-migration," said Mr. Roosevelt, "and a considerable portion of our audience was evidently in entire sympathy with me upon this point. pointed out the fact that the danger to the American workingman especially, and to the American workingman especially, and to the American of any kind generally, is not in the immigration of the skilled laborer—the man with the high standard of living—but in the immigration of the men who are cheap labor in its cheapest and worst form; the men who have no self-respect and who can live and work for wages which no Americans, I mean just as much the man who came here from over the seas as the man who came here from over the seas as the man who came here from over the seas as the man whose ancestors came here. We have stopped the padrone system that is the direct importation of cheap laborers by the padrone, which enabled him to undersell our own higher-priced labor in the market, and sooner or later we shall have to come to prohibiting also the incoming of the men who, whether imported under contract or not, do, immediately upon their arrival, furnish the natural labor supply of the padrone.

der contract or not, do, immediately upon their arrival, furnish the natural labor supply of the padrone.

"We must protect ourselves.

"The besttype of immigrants, no matter what country they come from, make good citizens for the United States, but we cannot afford, for the sake of an abstract theory, either to lower too much our standard of citizenship or to expose our wage sarners to a competition against which they cannot stand.

"Let me say one thing more about my meeting with the labor leaders. I wish there were more chances of such meetings. We stated our views with entire courtesy and with entire frankness to one another, where we differed as well as where we agreed. I think there were more points of agreement than of difference, but there were some very wide and sharp differences. Yet I am sure that no man could have looked at and listened to those men with whom I held this discussion without realizing that it was as assemblage to whom anarchism and communism were foreign. Those men are hundreds of years removed from and beyond the Paris Commune.

Mr. Roosevelt said he was not prepared to say just what character of a measure he should advocate as regards restricting immigration. "The matter is crude in my mind as yet." he said, "but I think favorably of some kind of an educational test, and it seems to me also that it might secure good clitzens for usif each immigrant had to pay a tax of $50 or so to get into the country. Still: do not feel ready to urge any particular measure.

Mr. Roosevelt was still inclined to chuckle over the way in which he met the objections which some of the workingmen made to the Bradley Martin ball and its display of wealth.

"It's a hard line to draw," he told the labor men. "Hemember that when you shut out the Hradley Martin ball and its display of wealth.

"It's a hard line to draw," he told the labor will ask you to rhut out Chuck Connors's ball also."

TRANSFER OF PRISONERS.

Fifty to Be Bemoved from the Unsafe

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 29, She-iff Johnson will on Monday transfer about fifty prisoners from the Westchester county jall in this village to the Kings county penitentiary. secause the present jail is in such an unsafe condition that he fears a wholesale jail delivery at any moment. Since the escape of James Jacques, the burglar who is accused of killing Walker Adams few days before election day, the Sheriff has become very anxious about the jall; and the frightful murder of Phlag a few days ago by a colored desperado named Williams in the jall caused the Sheriff to make up his mind to transfer his prisoners to a blue of safety in an adjoining county, as provided for by law when the place where the prisoners are locked up is unsafe.

The matter was brought to the attention of County Judge Smith Lent to-day, and upon the solicitation of the Sheriff he visited the fail. He condemned it as the worst fail in the United States and at once made an order directing the Sheriff to remove important prisoners to the Kings county penitentiary.

number of questions as to the water supply, and Mr. Milne stated that the supply limited, that $1,000,000 gallons were supply, and Mr. Milne stated that the surimited, that $1.000.000 gallons were daily now, and that the present coulaffairs was not promising. He said; 000.000 gallons was consumed on Weiand that it would be suicidal if this wup. In order not to allow too muchbe consumed, he said the people resthe southwestern part of the cityprived of a sufficient supply. He said hnot guarantee against a water familie

the next two years unless a new room constructed at once.

President Stewart of the Bearlemen said he was positive there was water on Long Island to supply he Brooklyn but also New York. M only surface water was used, and he if the springs under the surface were the whole question would be solved.

Burns, a hydraulic engineer, who has many wells on Long Island, said if more water than could be used, the anieling that the city had not gobe dow the surface water.
